Joyce Tull Named Director of CTO

Please join me in welcoming Joyce Nancarrow Tull, RN, BSW, MSN, CCRP, as Director of our Clinical Trials Office (CTO) and Assistant Director for Clinical Sciences. Joyce's experience and leadership in clinical research and management is a great asset for our team. Most recently, Joyce was the Associate Director of Clinical Investigations Support Office at USC Norris Comprehensive Cancer Center in Los Angeles, and she previously served as a Clinical Research Nurse Manager at City of Hope and Administrative Director of the Clinical Trials Office at The Ohio State University Comprehensive Cancer Center.

Joyce's success and experience in leading clinical trial operations at major Cancer Centers and developing new processes to accelerate progress in clinical research will be invaluable to our community at Yale and Smilow. I look forward to her leadership and guidance as our clinical trials operation continues to expand with additional opportunities for trials, newly achieved records for the number of patients cared for on trial, and expanded access through our Smilow Cancer Hospital Network.

Notables

Roy S. Herbst, MD, PhD, Chief of Medical Oncology, Ensign Professor of Medicine, and Associate Director for Translational Medicine, has been named to the Board of Directors for the International Association for the Study of Lung Cancer (IASLC). He will assume his four-year term at the upcoming IASLC 2019 World Conference on Lung Cancer in Barcelona in September.

Karen Reyes-Benzi, RN, was awarded the Yale New Haven Hospital Magnet Nurse of the Year award this week! Karen is a nurse in the infusion suite on NP7 in our Hematology Outpatient clinic and is a 26 year Navy Veteran. She is passionate about her fellow military comrades and has enrolled countless patients in the Veteran Affairs system to obtain benefits. Some have qualified for compensation for service related diagnoses. Thank you, Karen, for your excellent care and dedication!

Ellen F. Foxman, MD, PhD, Assistant Professor Laboratory Medicine and a member of Yale Cancer Center's Virus and Other Infection-associated Cancers Research Program, was named a 2019 Hartwell Investigator. She will receive support for three years at $100,000 direct cost per year for research funding for a Novel Diagnostic Test to Reduce Antibiotic Overuse.

Ranjit Bindra, MD, PhD, Associate Professor of Therapeutic Radiology, and Patricia LoRusso, DO, Professor of Medicine (Medical Oncology) and Associate Director of Experimental Therapeutics, have received a grant from the Rising Tide Foundation for $450K to support funding for biomarkers for their phase I clinical trial testing olaparib against IDH1/2-mutant cancers. Dr. LoRusso is the lead PI of the clinical trial, and Dr. Bindra is the co-PI. The clinical trial is directly translating basic science work from the Glazer and Bindra labs to clinical research through our Phase I Clinical Trial Program.

Shelley joined the YNHH family in 1993 as a staff nurse on EP 6-5 caring for surgical oncology patients. She quickly became a strong advocate for patient and families and was recognized by leadership and her peers, receiving the Nurse of the Year Award in 1999 and Clinical Expertise Award 1999 & 2001.

In 2001, she moved to a position as Nurse Coordinator for the Head and Neck Cancer Program in Smilow Cancer Hospital, focusing on coordination of patients and families across the care continuum. Shelley identified the need for improved and standardized patient education and with her physician partners developed a web based educational site for our surgical otolaryngology patients. During her service as the Head and Neck Coordinator, Shelley conceived of and implemented the first Free Head and Neck Annual Cancer Screening in 2006, which continued annually for eleven years, screened thousands, and identified multiple H&N cancers.

In 2010, Shelley changed her career focus to management and started as an Assistant Patient Service Manager establishing a nursing leadership presence in Radiation Oncology and in 2012 she was promoted to the Patient Service Manager. Shelley has developed a strong and talented regional nursing team and standardized nursing practice in radiation oncology for Smilow. Throughout her years at YNHH Shelley has also been involved in many organizational initiatives focusing on safety and quality, patient and family experience, and staff engagement and recognition.

Shelley has also volunteered for the past eight years in the "Closer to Free" annual cycling event as a Ride Marshall and plans to continue for years to come. She is one of the smiling faces that everyone has come to expect at the Closer to Free Ride!

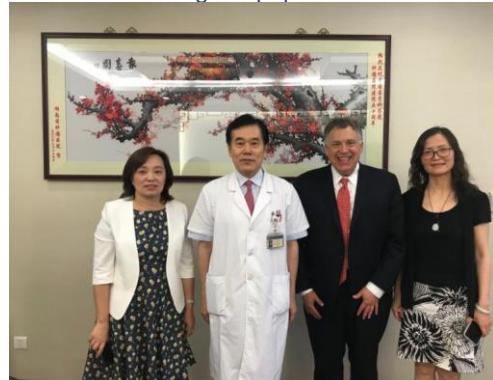

In retirement, Shelley and her husband look forward to spending more time with their children and grandchildren, traveling and scuba diving

The topic area for the FY20 Career Catalyst Research Award is Redefining Metastatic Breast Cancer through Liquid Biopsy. The goal of this focus area is to support outstanding research seeking to use liquid biopsy techniques to improve treatment, detection, and understanding of metastatic breast cancer which will lead to a reduction in breast cancer deaths by 2026. Komen requests Letters of Intent for research projects that address one of the following focus areas:

- * Refining treatment of metastatic breast cancer
- * Early detection of metastatic breast cancer
